The French press intimate that the Italian Government should have taken that situation into consideration; and, anyhow, the hope is expressed that the difficulty will soon be peacefully composed through diplomatic efforts. It must be added that they were more quickly and more accurately posted in Europe than in the United States, regarding the true significance of the departure from Washington of the Italian Minister. As is said by La Republique Prancoise, the organ of the Opportunist party:

CROSSED THE WESTERN BORDER.

Continuing, the speaker said:

Within the present century the advance guard of a great industrial army has crossed the Western border of Missouri and now the merchant, the farmer, the manufacturer and the miner join hands from the miner in the second of the Missouri and the miner join hands from the miner in the second of the Missouri and the miner join hands from the second of the Missouri and the second of the Missouri and the second of the Missouri and the setting aun, were seen the Missouri River and the setting aun, were seen the Missouri River and the setting aun, were seen the great from highways of traffic and travel. Pastoral and arable agriculture invited the farmer and returned rich harvests of all the cereals and the fruits of the zone. Silver and gold were dug; iron and coal wers mined; the mountains yielded their riches in the commercial minerals, stone and marble; manufactories had sprung up on requisition of the increasing population; commerce increased; vessels were built and steam panted through the waters.

In this wonderful ares of fertile land, in these mountains so pregnant and so prolific in their yield of resources, were found the room and the raw material for the maintenance of the multiplied milions that are coming in the footsteps of the advance. All that portion of the United States lying west of the Mississippi River was the greater half of the continent, not only in its area, but in its resources of wealth and its capabilities of maintelning population. Within this area were contained two thirds of the natural resources of the Union. It was also capable of maintaining population proportionate to its area. The greatest cause of the present depression, he said, was partisan politics. The

SHAKSFEARE'S "THE TEMPEST."
Mr. Hannibal A. Williams of New York, who two years ago delighted select audiences at Memorial Hall, and who repeated that success a little later in private recitals, began a course of Shakspearian recitals at Addington Hall last evening under auspices which must have been gratifying to the talented reader. The play was "The Tempest," and for more than two hours Mr. Williams treated this masterpiece of dramatic composition in comment and recitation. Mr. Williams' manner is easy and graceful; he indulges in few gestures, and adds to a simplicity of presentation an apparent knowledge and mastery of his theme that places his auditors at once an rapport with him and his subject. He described "The Tempest" as wholly imaginative, and one of the latest plays written by Shakspeare. It was written at the supernatural. THE FROHMAN SÜCCESSES.

Mr. Chas. Frohman has reason to feel the highest gratification at the reception of his attractions in this city. The success of "Men and Women" at the Grand was so brilliant that Manager Short has secured the company for a return engagement at the Olympic later in the season. The play has scored a triumph at the Columbia Theater in Chicago, where people are being turned away every night. Mr. Frohman's excellent company in "All the Comforts of Home" is delighting fine audiences at the Olympic this week.

MISS KATHERINE MEYERS BREAKS HER PARASOL ON MISS MATTIE KOHLER.

Joseph Linenbarger's Bad Blunder Causes a Scene on Jefferson Avenue and Walnut Street Last Evening Which Attracts a Big Crowd-The Commission Man and the Two Women Arrested.

Two young and rather handsome women and a faultlessly attired young man were the principals in a sensational scene a few min-utes before 8 o'clock last evening at Jefferson avenue and Walnut street. The young man was no other than Joseph Linenbarger, a well-known commission merchant who is seen on 'Change daily, young women were Miss Meyers, residing on Market street near Jefferresides in handsome apartments on Hickory street, back of Schneider's Garden. Eye witnesses agree that the scene was exciting in the extreme, and only the prompt appearance of Patrolman John Coleman prevented serious results. From all accounts it appears that Linenbarger was taking a walk along Jefferson avenue in company with Miss Kohler. She was leaning on his arm and both were absorbed in conversation when they thinking she had a prior and a stronger claim on the affections of the young commission merchant, did not like the spectacle that

Mr. Stephens in reply to a question said: "I am on my way to Washington to hold a consultation with the comptroller of the currency in reference to the affairs of the Fifth National Bank. The law officers of the Treasury Department will also be consulted, and the final action in reterence to bringing suits against the directors determined upon. There is not the slightest doubt in my mind that these suits will be brought but I wish to have the authority of the Washington officials before I act. This is, however, a merely formal matter. The question of law was determined in the Overstolz case, and in regard to the other directors it is now simply a question of fact. I have examined the case in all its bearings with great care, lawyers have passed judgment upon it, in my opinion there is an abundance of evidence, and I am confident that enough money can be obtained from the directors to mable the depositors to receive 100 cents on the dollar. I also carry with me the checks for the dividend of 3 per cent recently declared, and whea they are signed the depositors will receive them."

Mammoth Lumber Trust.

Savannan, Ga., April 15.—A charter was granted Monday to the largest lumber firms of Georgia for what is in reality a mammoth lumber trust. Such firms as J. Kleiark & Co., Southard Bros., Hilton, Bodge & Co., of New York, and Stillweil Mill Co., and McDonough & Co. of this city, are in ft. The organizers have capitalized their mills, railroads and timber lands at a minimum of $5,000,000. This immense pool, known as the South Atlantic Land & Lumber Co., expects to control prices of lumber and stop he profitiess cutting of prices which has been going on for some time.

Brandham, colored, and which led to an attempt to lynch the prisoner last night is becoming ominous. News of the excitement spread rapidly, and all trains leading into the city are crowded with people from neighboring towns. The streets are packed with excited men. The negroes are holding a mass-meeting to decide what they will do. The African M. E. Church was filled all last night with a crowd of angry negroes, seemingly determined on lynching. At 2 o'clock this with a crowd of angry negroes, seemingly determined on lynching. At 2 o'clock this morning a squad of negroes went to the jai and asked for protection stating that the lives of their fellow-men were in immediate danger at the church. Col. J. T. Anthony at once dispatched a portion of the militia to the church and as the men were being drawn into line some negroes who were in the cupola opened fire on them. This so incensed the military that the fire was returned and the negro church was riddled with bullets. All the stained glass windows were broken, and it is reported that several negroes were badly injured. Mayor McDowell issued a proclamation yesterday afternoon that all the barrooms of the city must be closed at 5:80 o'clock, so that whisky should not lead the infuriated mob to deeds of violence.

A correspondent had a long talk with Henry Brandham in the Jali yesterday afternoon.

Brandham in the jail yesterday afternoon. He declared that he never saw the Italian, He declared that he never saw the Italian, Macca, and declared that he can secure proof sufficient to show that he is no murderer. Last night it was rumored that Brandham is the man who so foully murdered an old citizen of Breenbourg several weeks ago in the same way that Macca was killed. An extra force of 200 men has come from police headquarters to shard has gone from police headquarters to guard the jail. It is not thought advisable to put the military on guard as they were up all last hight. The hardware stores have been raided by citizens in search of arms and young men, by citizens in search of arms and young men, boys and all, have guns.

Never before in the history of the city has such excitement existed as during the past twenty-four hours. Men have abandoned their business to join the mob. The gladies of the city are badly frightened. The negroes say they expect to burn every white church in the city in their efforts to avenge the wrong. The minds of the whites have wandered from the idea of lynching and now it is a contest between white and negro domination. Grave fears are expressed for the safety of the city.

THE DIRECT TAX PATMENTS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 15.—The $357,707, which was the quota to which the State of Maine was entitled under the direct tax act was paid through the sub-Treasury at Boston, mainly in silver certificates. The quota of Massachusetts, 5700,000, must be paid at the same place. A telegram was received at the treasurer's office yesterday from three Boston banks stating that the payment of this large sum in silver certificates might cause great monetary disturbance in New England and requesting the treasurer to make the payment in gold. In reply the department informed the bankers that it would pay the warrant in lawful money of the United States and of such character as was on hand in the Boston sub-treasury.

The stuff had been taken from a North Springfield store that same night and they had me dead to rights. I know I was to under a big, hollow log and went to sleep. I staid in the woods sixty hours without a bit to eat, and by that time I was almost dead with cold and hunger. We shoulder by nonths ago I struck Springfield, Mo. I was from a North Springfield store that same night and they had me dead to rights. I knew I was good for at least five years before a jury, so the first chance I got I fixed up a scheme with the other five fellows in my cell to escape. On the morning of Dec. 20, when Jalier Waiter Muriat came around with our grub, I grabbed him by the throat through the window, while one of the other boys reached over and took off his bunch of keys. Muriat was choked and couldn't yell and the gang drowned the noise of his kicking by singing a hymn. We got the doors unlocked, took Muriat's gun and made a break for timber. Three of us went one way and were followed by Sheriff Day and a posse, a little boy giving us away. We were caught. The other three got away for good. Of course I was convicted and the jury gave me six years.

There was no ill-feeling in the matter, the parties being the warmest of personal friends, but it was a business transaction. On the following day Page McPherson failed to report at his office and has not been seen by his partner since. WHAT CAUSED M'PHERSON'S PANIC.

DREADED OFFICIAL EXPOSURE.

To a man of McPherson's known sensitivehess and high personal sense of honor, the probability of being declared a defaulting official of the Mining Exchange is thought to have been the disturbing cause that caused him to adopt the desperate refuge of flight, disappearance, probably of suicide. His friends now believe that he shrank back on Friday morning from facing his partner with the statement that he could not make his account gaod, and saw also that the exposure of his shortage with the Minling stock Exchange was bound to follow.
The regular annual meeting of the Board of ing Stock Exchange was bound to follow. The regular annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Mining Exchange is to be held to morrow, and at that time, at the latest, it would have developed that the securities and cash of the institution had been made away with, could they not have been produced by Treasurer McPherson. It was this prospect that confronted the young man, and is what, in all likelihood, robbed him of the courage necessary to face the consequences of his financial troubles. He accordingly remained away from his place of business on the day of Promised settlement.

PANIC-STRICKEN AND WAVERING. It appears as though he had not then made up his mind to leave the city as he took no bag or traveling outfit on leaving his brother's house. He could easily have done to without exciting comment, as he frequently made hurried trips to New York and Chicago. He certainly did not leave $t. Louis on The Hercitality did not leave St. Louis on Iriday, but after remaining away from his office it is thought that Page McPherson's panic may have increased until he probably fost his head, and was hardly responsible for what he did. Whether he finally fled from the city, whether he has decided upon suicide as a rafuge from his troubles, can only be settled.

It is extremely doubtful that Page McPher-son has ever left St. Louis since disappear-ing from his usual business and social haunts last Friday. If he did fice from the city it is much nearer his old home than was the idea entertained yesterday.

This new theory has succeeded that advanced at the first moment of the shock of Page McPherson's disappearance. It has arisen owing to the peculiar developments in the case. It is partially entertained now by the young man's business partner, Mr. Charles M. Switzer, and the police are gradually working over to the same idea, being influenced by the fact that no clews can be obtained pointing definitely to McPherson's fight from St. Louis.

Although the missing man has been absent from his residence and his place of business since Friday morning last, the fact is established beyond question this morning that he did not leave the city on that day, and that he has been seen on the streets since that time. In addition to the evidence to this effect published in yesterday's afternoon post-Dispartch, there have arisen other witnesses who confirm the story of his presence in St. Louis after Friday by the evidence of their own eyes. Mr. Robert W. Goode, the lawyer who has known Page McPherson for years, was at the Grand Opera-house last Friday night, accompanied by his wife. At the close of the performance, in passing out with the cudent through the did not think of this fact until in reading the account of the young man's disappearance in yesterday's Fost-Disparce, it recurred to him as a proof that McPherson was in the city at least twenty-four hours after leaving his brother's house Friday morning. Where he stayed during that time could not be learned to-day.

The funds which Page McPherson held as Treasurer of the Mining Stock Exchange amounted in all to 24,000. Of the amount 24,000 consisted of East St. Louis bonds, and $400 in Cash. He was suppos action as was necessary under the circumstances.

Page McPherson was last seen in the Missouri Safe Deposit Co.'s establishment two days before his disappearance. This information was given to a Post-Dispatch reporter this morning by an employe of the company who declined to allow the use of his name. The employe in question saw McPherson at that time in the office of the Safe Deposit Co. but did not see him go to the box where the securities were kept.

A CHICAGO INVESTIGATION BEGUN.

This morning Mr. J. W. Gormley of the disappearance in yesterday's Post-Disparch, it recurred to him as a proof that McPherson was in the city at least until Friday night. Mr. Goode spoke to his wife of having seen Page Mc-Pherson at the Grand, but Mrs. Goode had not seen him. Mr. Goode feels tolerably sure, nevertheless, that he could not have been missaken and that it was Page McPherson.

Pherson at the Grand, but Mrs. Goode had not seen him. Mr. Goode feels tolerably sure, nevertheless, that he could not have been mistaken, and that it was Page McPherson whom he saw.

A MEFING ON SATUEDAY MORNING.

Twelve hours later than the meeting remembered by Mr. Goode, Page McPherson was encountered by another gentleman who knows him well. The meeting occurred in broad daylight, the two men passed one another on the sidewalk, bowing in mutual recognition, and the witness to this important meeting is willing to swear that it was Page McPherson whom he saw at that time. Dr. Robt, J. Hill is the gentleman who establishes the fact of McPherson's having been in the city as late as Saturday noon. Dr. Hill was seen by a Post-Dispatch reporter this morning, and said:

"I can prove the fact of its having been asturday when I saw Page McPherson by the circumstance that I had been sick at the southern Hotel all week with la grippe and Saturday was the first and only day I was cut. A Peculiar Burglary. It to-day developed that since Monday the police of the Fifth District have been at work without any trouble whatever. It is believed that his flight, or disappearance, was caused altogether by his position as treasurer of the Mining Stock Exchange, it being now believed that he had used the securities and money of that body, and saw, with his other financial troubles gathering about him, that he would be unable to replace the Mining Exchange funds.

EUROPE'S PERENNIAL PERIL.

The seizure and retention of Alsage and Lorraine by Germany has for twenty years converted Europe into a vast miliest and most expensive armies the world ever saw. So long as the seized provinces hold out their hands to France and plead for rescue, just so long will this constant preparation for war go on, forcing all the European Governments to the verge of bankruptcy and revolution, no man knowing that a month will elapse before the armies will be engaged in the work of wholesale slaughter.

Europe could keep down the Eastern question alone, or settle it forever, with much smaller armies than she now maintains in time of nominal peace. But the dismemberment of France was Russia's pportunity to obtain as an ally the power that had been foremost in opposing the exension of Russian power over Southeastern Europe and around the Mediterranean coast. The Eastern question is now joined to the Alsace-Lorraine question as a reason for maintaining monster armies and continually apprehending the outbreak of a war that will involve the whole continent.

This comes of the European idea that governments are instituted to rule the people and not to consult the wishes of the governed, except when force has been tried and failed. If the wishes of the Alsatians and Lorrainers were consulted and respected, every army in Europe might be reduced to a real peace footing to-morrow, and more would be done in ten years of such peace toward ameliorating the condition of the European masses than can possibly be done in a century under such conditions as now prevail.

THE MERRY WAR.

The circulation question is still with us and the Post-Dispatch takes great pleasure in keeping it up. Our original propositiat Tom Lynam paid Kralemann tion called for proved and certified expert reports of the daily and Sunday circulation in city and country of the three leading newspapers of St. Louis, and the more reports of St. Louis r ure in keeping it up. Our original proposinewspapers of St. Louis, and the more widely the circulation question is agitated the better we shall like it.

A year ago the Republic paid several hundred dollars for the melancholy pleasure of proving that the regular, legitimate, bona-fide circulation of the POST-DISPATCH will be a purely agricultusal affair, that daily and Sunday exceeded 30,000 copies. Since then we have reduced the price of the paper to meet the cut started by the Republic and followed by the Globe-Democrat. which has resulted in an addition of about 5,000 to our daily and 12,000 to our Sunday

> Now the Republic, which is raving and shricking over the exposure of its inability to show any circulation whatever, and which calls the advertisers bunco steerers because they called for facts, has unearthed something which looks like an attempt on the part of the Globe-Democrat to temporarily inflate its circulation and it published its circulation and its published its circulation and circul lishes the documents. The Globe-Democrat | and the terms were made position is simply the one we have always date for the House and to throw his whole held. We offer to our advertising cus-tomers a proven and guaranteed circulation in the city of St. Louis greater than that of both the morning papers and welcome every examination and investigation.

The bona fide legitimate circulation of the fally and SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH has never

STORY OF THE CHECKS.

The story that was told of these checks was that Kralemann did not care to run a candidate for the House if any inducement was offered him not to do so, and then he conceived the idea that it might be worth som ceived the idea that it might be worth some-thing to Candidate Lynam to keep a rival out of the field. He accordingly sent word to Lynam that he could have a clear field for $200, and Lynam agreed to pay it. The checks, a fac-simile of one is published here, are proof were under which he paid Committee were under which he paid committeeman kralemann $200. He seemed disinclined to talk at first. He said he did not mind telling the story, but as he was defeated he was afraid some one might think it was a squeal, and he was not a man to squeal. He was and he was not a man to squeal. He was finally convinced that so much had been gathered from the rumors in the ward that gathered from the rulmors in the ward that the story was practically known and then he consented to tell it all.

"A third party came to me," he began, "andigaid that Kralemann did not care to put up a candidate for the House of Delegates, faction, and that won for him."

"I notice that the money was paid with two checks of $100 each and of different dates. Why was that?"

"Our agreement was for one-half cash, and to lose another $500 he can do so by renewing his bluff of last year, and we will permit him to add 5,000 to the circulation of the daily and 12,000 to the circulation of the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH.

"Our agreement was for one-half cash, and that was paid on the 17th of March. That check was the smaller of the two, and it was one of Kralemann's. It was taken from his check-book—we do business at the same bank—and it was written in his saloon. It is indorsed by him, and you can see from the cuts in it that it has been through the bank. The other $100 was to be paid the morning after the Democratic primaries. They were held on March 19, and on the morning of the 20th Kralemann was so anxious and ise and sat in my kitchen until I made out the check and gave it to him. He would not go away until he had the money."

PULLED OFF THE TRACK. "Oh, yes. A man named Timmermelster, who has a store on Fourteenth and Carr, who has a store on Fourteenth and Carr, wanted to run and had been to see Kralemann about it. Kralemann told me that Timmermeister wanted to run, but when I gave him the $200 he said: "I'll get rid of Timmermeister. I'll give him something and steer him off. How he got rid of Timmermeister. I'll give him something and steer him off. How he got rid of Timmermeister. I don't know nor did I care.

wanted to clear the field, and that was the extent of my interest in the fate of the Re-unblican aspirants."

The returns from the poll, which was just in front of Kralemann's saloon, bears out the story. At that poll Wehner, the leading yotes, and Aristein, the lowest, got 72.
Lynam, the Democratic nominee, got only 46, and Cosgrove, who was making an intependent race, got 146. He led the lependent race, and interest Democratic Councilman by and Lynam fell 26 below the lowest, although the lowest although the low and Lynam fell 26 below the lowest, although Lynam had been twice elected to the House from this ward. The result of that election is still a subject of interest in the ward, and since this story has become known Kralemann has been much discussed by the politicians, some of whom met a few nights ago to discuss the advisability of presenting the case to the Grand-jury to see if they could not find some means of indicting the Republican Committeeman. DODGING THE ISSUE.

NEWSPAPERS WHO WILL NOT HAVE THEIR CIRCULATION INVESTIGATED.

"Globe-Democrat"—How the "Post-Dispatch" Submitted to an Examina-tion—A Wager Which Was Declined.

The attempt to have a committee, repre senting the newspaper advertisers of St.

Louis, make an investigation of the circulation, both inside and outside the city, of the Post Dispatch, Globe-Democrat and Republic is. not meeting with the success it deserves. The Post-Disparch has been from the first to have the examination but the newspapers who afraid to make known actual circulation are using every means in their power to thwart the investigation and divert public attention from the main issue to let advertisers examine the goods they are value of the newspaper space for which they nnually pay so many thousands of dollars. The Republic this morning devotes two col-umns to a scheme of the Globe-Democrat to infate its circulation. This article states that in order to work up a false showing of circulation the Globe-Democrat sent out under date of April 2 postal cards notifying news-dealers that, owing to important news, their orders would be increased by the paper for a few days, and that dealers would be allowed return. few days, and that dealers would be allowed return privilege on the extra papers sent them. Not only were these postal cards sent to all newsdealers on the Globe-Democrat's list, but they were also sent out by the St. Louis News Co. to all its dealers, and the Republic alleges that by this method its morning contemporary sought to falsely inflate its circulation at least 20,000 copies a day. The claim is made that it was done to make a false showing for the paper should a committee of its books. After a few days' trial the paper dropped the scheme.

THE "GLOBE-DEMOCRAT" POSTAL.

The Republic reproduces the following postal card sent out by the Globe-Democrat to dealers:

Owing to important news of general interest, we will increase your order for a few days until you caregulate the number you wish. We allow you return privilege on the extras. Yours truly, GLOBE PRINTING CO.

This, it is charged, is a device for giving that paper an unnatural circulation. The Globe-Democrat admits that these cards were sent out, and defends such action as an ordinary business notification. That the public may judge the value of this defense, there is given herewith a copy of the country dealers' notification as sent out by the Post-Disparch in the regular course of business. The investigation made of the Post-Dis-PATCH circulation was thorough and complete, and was conducted by the Republic's own selected expert, who would have been able to detect any attempt at deception. Since then the circulation of the Post-Dis-PATCH has largely and stendily increased—until we are now prepared to prove a daily circulation of over 35,000 and a Sunday circulation of ever 40,000 copies, and this increase is due, not to any false inflation or trickery, but to a natural demand from the people for the best newspaper pub-lished, pushed by legitimate business meth-ods conducted in a business manner.

Sash and Door Manufacturers to Meet a A call was issued to-day by Secretary Fry of the Philbert & Johanning Manufacturing Co. for a convention of the South and West Sash and Door Association to begin at the Midland Hotel, Kansas City, Mo., to-morrow at 10 o'clock. The association is composed of manufacturers and wholesalers west of the manufacturers and wholesalers west of the Mississippi from Dubuque to Memphis in the Central Mississippi Valley. The association's convention this time is more than anything else to discuss the question of advancing prices, which are now and for a year past have been in a most wretched condition, absolutely forcing manufacturers to sell at bare cost. What action will be taken to-morrow is uncertain, for the reason that to-day the Northwestern Manufacturers' Association is holding a called convention, and what that organization decides on doing will have much to do with the result of the Kansas City gathering. The Philbert & Johanning Co., the Huttig Sash & Doors works and the Joseph Hafner Manufacturing Co. will be represented from this city. North Broadway, between Salisbury and novel procession, Which attracted a crowd of fully a thousand men, women and children. It was the consummation of an election agreement made between Jacob Schaff-nitt, a North Broadway barber, and section. The barber is a Republican and the to Democracy. A few days before the election Schaffnitt, who weighs 225 pounds, told Muhs, who is short, but very stout, that of Delegates in the Sixth Ward was not in Schoenbeck the Republican candidate had able bantering on both sides and an agree ment was finally drawn up which insured a wheelbarrow ride for one or the other. Schaffnitt took the Republican side and Muhs, the Democratic end of the agree-ment. The Republican candidate won by a scratch, and when the official count was made, confirming Schoenbeck's election Muhs began making preparations for his big Arrangements were made to have the ride Monday night, but rain interfered and a postponement was had until last evening.

As early as 7 o'clock the crowd began gathering in front of Muhs' saloon, which was decided upon as the starting place. Fifteen minutes later Schaffnitt arrived and was greated with cheers by the Republicans in the gathering. A brass band came next and began playing in front of Muhs' door. This had the effect of swelling the size of the crowd, which thronged the street and sidewith a comfortable spring seat inside to insure comfort and ease for the winner. The crowd yelled when Muhs got between the handles preparatory to making the start. He wore a look of determination and after rubbing his hands in the dirt on the sidewalk, pretty much in the same fashion as a base ball player when he picks up the bat, grabbed the handles and said he was ready.

THE START.

The band struck up "Hail Columbia" and the crowd yelled louder than before. This was the signal for the start. The crowd followed behind and grew in size as the novel procession progressed. When Salisbury Street was reached Muhs began to puff and blow as though he was about to collapse at any second. He made the turn however and clenching his was about to collapse at any second. He made the turn, however, and clenching his teeth got a tighter hold on the handles and started on the return trip. He had made five long blocks without losing a keg of beer. Before another block was made, however, the crowd noticed that he was weakening, and bets were made on his further endurance. Before the second block was made a rest seemed inevitable. Great beads of perspiration were rolling down Muhs' face, and his breathing became more labored.

to hear anything," remarked a spectator at ganday's game. "He plays by constantly watching the ball," returned the companion of the young man who had made the remark. And such was the case. Hoy never takes his eye off the ball. His fellow players coach him altogether by signs, but the mute has a natural instinct for playing ball and needs little coaching in the field. It is only at the bat and on bases that he needs it. When at the bat Hoy looks at Comiskey every time a ball is bat Hoy looks at Comiskey every time a ball is pitched and the St. Louis captain, who stands on the lines, indicates to him by signs whether the umpire has called it a ball or a strike. It is a rather strange sight to watch the finger-telegraphing between them.

"It ought to be out when a man catches one like that," remarked Mike Kelly for the bene-fit of the large crowd present at last Sunday's game when he took a foul tip off the bat. The remark was made in jest, but it sounded the remark was made in jest, but it sounded the keynote of a much discussed point. Since the rule has been passed declaring that the catch of a foul tip shall not constitute an out there has been considerable argument as to the wisdom of the rule. The principal cause for passing it was that foul tips were very hard to detect at times and there were frequent disputes as to whether battsmen had made a strike or a foul tip. By passing this rule this wrangling has been almost entirely abolished. The kicks were generally where a man was given out and even if a foul tip is now declared by mistake to be a strike it is not of near so much consequence as when a now declared by mistake to be a strike it is not of near so much consequence as when a strike was called a foul tip and the batter re-tired. The change of rules was a wise one. A foul tip should not be out, for when a catcher captures one of them it is by mere catcher captures one of them it is by mere chance or accident, for no man playing just behind the bat can move his hands in time to get one, if the course of the ball is changed any by the fouling. It is only where the tip comes direct into the catcher's hands that he ever gets them. A foul tip, however, is equivalent to a strike, and the batter has all the advantages and chances of an orhas all the advantages and chances of an or-dinary strike. It is a miss of aim the same as any ordinary strike, only the batsman comes nearer his mark and while he fails to hit the ball squarely he manages to touch its top or bottom. Foul tips should be counted as strikes except where it is the third or last strike. Then it should not be, as it would give a batsman an unfair advantage. The tip might go wide and the catcher would

THE TURF. New York, April 18 .- The long streak of ill luck which, for the greater part of last season, marred the career of Tenny, has, to all appearance, just reached its ultimatum. The story told yesterday of Tenny's lameness and son, marred the career of Tenny, has, to all appearance, just reached its ultimatum. The story told yesterday of Tenny's lameness and break down in training, seems to be unhappily only too true. Mr. Pulsifer was apparently broken up with grief yesterday morning, as he watched the idol of his heart and the pride of his life limp along the tobbogan slide at West Chester in the rear of "Snip". Donovan's string of racers. With tears in his eyes, he said, pointing to the "great little 'un:"

"There is $50,000 worth of stakes gone in a minute. I need not have backed him for a cent, yet I should have been about that much richer at the end of the year."

exclaiming, with Tenny's owner: "The pity of it." In point of general condition Tenny just now is at his best. But for lameness which has disabled him he could race this week. In fact, Mr. Pulsifer intended to start him at Guttenburg, believing that a race or two on the hill would materially benefit him is his work for the Brooklyn handicap.

The trouble is supposed to be with the havicular bone. The secret of Tenny's breakflown was well kept—so well, indeed, that it was not until Mr. Pulsifer was seen to take it, 900 to 100 upon Firenzi for the Suburban that any suspicion of the truth leaked out. It was said yesterday that since Thursday Tenny had been confined to walking and trotting exercise. When he first walks out on the track the lameness is not perceptible. When he becomes warm with exercise, however, the weakness in his foot begins to be seen to the walking and trotting exercise. When he first walks out on the track the lameness is not perceptible. iff's possession and augurs the probable abandonment or almost positive overthrow of the line of defense laid down by the attorneys representing Midwife Lizzie Hotson and Clerk George W. Dashman in the now famous action pending against them for manslaughter in the second degree.

It was upon expert evidence to be obtained in the microscopic examination of the viscera, together with the testimony of certain medical men, that Marshall F. McDonald depended to establish the innocense of his midwife client and to fix the direct responsibility for poor Laura Fitts' death upon Dr. A. V. L. Brokaw, who attended her after the criminal operation had been performed. At the preliminary examination held in the Court of Criminal Correction two weeks ago, after the positive identification by Mrs. Fitts and the damaging stories of Misses Mary Becker and Edith Hinman, Mr. McDonald selzed upon what at that time appeared to him might be used to serve his purpose, and adopted a theory of defense. By his methods in cross-examination he endeavored to obtain from Dr. Brokaw some inadvertent statement which might be construed as an admission of error on his part. Falling in this he made a demand of the court for an order upon Dr. Brokaw, requiring him to present for the inspection of those experts whom he might name, the specimens he had obtained from the body of the girl at the time the post-mortem examination was made at the Morgue. W. H. COPELAND, M. D.

This morning, E. O. Wolcott of Denver, Senator from Colorado, arrived in this city and registered at the Southern. In reply to a question, Senator Wolcott said that the people of Colorado were a unit in favor of free coinage, and that while the Sherman bill was better than any that had preceded it, that it was by no means entirely satisfactory. The people of Colorado, and of the West generally, demanded the unrestricted coinage of silver, and were opposed to any restrictions being placed upon it.

Street, St. Louis, Mo.

"My head and nose stopped up. 1 had constant buzzing and roaring noises in my ears. The matter would drop back into my throat. I was continually hawking and raising. A tearing, racking cough night and morning, with which I would raise quantities of mucus. Sharp pains would take me in the chest, shooting through under my shoulder blades. Night sweats and swealing of the limbs came on and weakened me rapidly. My appetite was fairly good, but I would cough and raise after eating until I would throw up all the lood I had taken. I seemed to sleep well, but it did me no good; would arise in the morning tired and unrefreshed. I lost in feeh and strongth and unrefreshed. I lost in feeh and the morning tired and unrefreshed. I lost in feeh and the morning the days to be a corrected and Thompson. What they have to one to real can hardly describe in words. One by one my symptoms passed away. My hearing is restored. specimens when needed. But Mr. McDonald persisted in his demands for an order from the court. This was given, and the specimens were produced. Then Mr. McDonald wanted the jar placed in his keeping. Gov. Johnson objected. Finally Judge Claiborne ordered that the jar be delivered into the care of the Sheriff for two weeks, during which time the representative of the defense, when accompanied by a representative of the State, would be permitted to take it away for an examination of the contents. Deputy Sheriff Kickham has daily held himself in readiness to deliver the jar at call, but no call has come. Dr. Louis Bremer, the expert named by the State, has awaited an announcement from Dr. F. L. James setting the date of examination, but no announcement has been made. The two weeks were up at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It was then that the order was given. Said Judge Claiborne:

"I did not want to appear in the light of taking snap judgment on any person, and gave the expert for the defense an additional twenty-four hours in which to avail himself of the use of the specimens are undoubtedly valuable and the Sheriff's store-room is not a proper place in which to keep them. For this reason I shall grant the attorneys no longer time."

TREATED BY MAIL.

About the 10th of last May Mr. Albert M. Riley of Haynes, Hocking County, O., placed himself under treatment, by mail, with the physicians of the Copeland Medical Institute. In stating his case he said: "Two and one-half years ago I had hemorrhages from my lungs, but my brouble began, as many others do, by frequent catching coids, and my nose would stor up and there would be an unnatural filling up of my head. At times I could not breather through my nose at all!"

On June 15 he wrote: "I am getting better as fast as a man could in my condition." Aug. I he called at the office of the Copeland Medical Institute have for the physicians of the copeland Medical Institute have given me the only permanent relief I have ever received. My cought gone. I breathe now freely through my head. I have raised no blood or had a hemorrhage of any kind since I began your treatment. In fact, I am heavier and were all this change to you gentiemen."

ON 'CHANGE. Wheat—It was an unsettled market this morning. The European advices were not so bullish as they have been and the foreign markets showed a tendeacy to take a turn downward, though outside of 3d decline in cargoes reported from London no lower prices were quoted, but private showed mone of their late ballooning inclinations and their advices denoted more of a bearish feeling prevalent. Outside of its backwardness there was nothing the matter with the weather and outside the fear of fly and louss damage, that has not yet surely materialized, there was nothing the matter with the weather and outside the fear of fly and louss damage, that has not yet surely materialized, there was nothing the matter with crop prespects. Corn—There was such an absence of outside orders and local interest was so light that trading was reduced to very small dimensions. Receipts were good, though the greater part went through; the weather fair, cables firm, with cargoes kid biger and domestic markets as quiet and irresolute as our own. The chief influence to sway prices was wheat, but the markets as a quiet and irresolute as our own. An Indianian Who Has Spoken But Fou Words in Thirty Years.

CAMBRIDGE CITY, Ind., April 15.—William Eaton of this place does not believe in talking, having spoken but four words in thirty years. He is about 55 years old and has lived in this place for the past twenty-five years. He owned eighty acres of land adjoining his father's farm, which he sold for $2,000 and invested his money in small hand Bibles, which he gave away to every one he would see until they were all gone. To any question his answer will be: "Lord's willing," "So be it," or "Be it so."

NOLAN HATHAWAY OF CHICAGO SECRET-LY MARRIES THE HEIRESS.

hey Are Waiting for the Storm at Delphi, Ind., to Subside—Young Hathaway's Social and Business Career—From Pen-CHICAGO, Ill., April 15 .- Dispat ches from

Milwaukee confirm a rumor that Nolan Hath-away of Chicago and Miss Henrietta Bowen, the millionaire heiress of Delphi, Ind., were Abner H. Bowen, over whose estate and the taxes thereon has been much sensational litigation at Delphi, Ind., during the last few induced Mr. Hathaway and Miss Bowen to have a quiet wedding and not let even their intimate friends into the secret until the Delphi storm had subsided. The marriage is affirmed on the authority of the Rev. Cabin Halsey of Wisconsin, who tied the knot.

Mr. Hathaway is employed with the American Paper Co. When seen he declined to talk about his marriage or corroborate the report that he had made an alliance with one section of the late Abner H. Bowen's $5,000,000.

tion of the late Abner H. Bowen's $5,000,000.

"My private affairs can be of no interest to the public," averred Mr. Hathaway, "and I can not talk about them."

Nolan Hathaway has long been an envied young man. A handsome face, a fine figure, gentle manners and rich tenor voice have made him a great favorite of the ladies and to them he owes his prosperity. Envious people say he is lucky, but his friends say he has earned all his brilliant prospects. With a millionaire wife and a patroness whose check is good for half that sum Mr. Hathaway does not seem to have a life of worry and toil for bread before him.

Mr. Hathaway was born at Washington Court House, O., about 28 years ago, and is of good family connections. He came to Chicago ten or twelve years ago and entered the humble vocation of a clerk. Mr. Hathaway's possibilities did not develop until about six years ago. His adventures since that time are related by a gentleman who knew the lucky young man when he lived in Indiana.

"Hathaway has enjoyed a meteoric career," he said. "His latest achievement, however, is the cap sheaf of several previous fortunate conquests. Six years ago he was an underpaid and overworked dry goods clerk in Lafayette, Ind. He came there without friends, but it did not take long for him to get into the local swim. He possessed a sweet tenor voice which was in demand for amateur entertainments. Mrs. E. C. Sumner, widow of the Benton County cattle king, was residing in Lafayette at that time and became attracted by Hathaway, whom she had met in a social way. She was becoming advanced in years and had large business interests to look after. Hathaway said the right thing at the right time and from dry goods clerk became private secretary to Mrs. Sumner and business manager of her large landed interests. She virtually adopted him as a son, for ever since then he has been her confidential adviser and one of her prospective heirs. Mrs. Sumner resides in a beautiful home in this city and the finest suite in the house is occupied by her protege, who, since coming to Chicago, has held positions of responsibility with J. V. Farwell & Co. and the National Paper Co.

Hathaway's future plans are the subject of much speculation by those who know of his career. A METEORIC CAREER.

Testimony in the Millingto

Murder Case. DENVER, Colo., April 15 .- Dr. D. J. Pfeffer Allen's saloon, 621 Market street, shortly after 9:80 c'clock last night. Dr. Jordan Hospital, was placed on the stand in the Millington murder case vesterday as an expert vitness to testify as to what he thought from the evidence caused the death of W. H. Avery, who is said to have been poisoned with arsenic by Mrs. Avery. He said he avery, who is said to have been poisoned with arsenic by Mrs. Avery. He said he thought the man died of starvation due to the fact that the stomach was inflamed, aggravated by long-standing chronic condition, and that no attempt was made to tion, and that no attempt was made to nourish the man by well-known medical means. The nervous symptoms are too obscure to enable a person to form an opinion as to the cause of them. There is one fact which shows that uric poison, due to a weak condition of the kidneys, existed. He said he was not convinced that Avery died of poison, because arsenic was found in his bones or muscles, as it should also have been found in the softer parts. Dr. O. 8. Bennet and Dr. George Bristol also testified that they could not believe Mr. Avery had been killed with poison.

North Dakota Settlers Suffering From th

CHICAGO, Ill., April 15.-A special dispatel from Grand Forks, N. D., says: The white settlers in the vicinity of Rolla and St. John, Rolette County, met Monday night and sent in a petition to the Indian Bureau for a fort and a detail of soldiers at St. John. The settlers set forth that they have been bullied, their stock has been run off, and a general sense of insecurity has been spread throughout that region by a band of 2,000 Indians and half-breeds camped in the 2,000 Indians and half-breeds camped in the Turtle Mountains. Nine out of ten of these Indians are said to be British subjects, but every one of them is drawing rations from Uncle Sam.

The settlers have begun arming themselves and declare that if the Indian Bureau does not held them themselves.

HEALING, COOLING

Does not smart nor sting. Reduces Redness, Checks Bleeding, Just as it reduces any inflammation, it sends back the blood which the rasping of the razor has drawn near the surface, so leaves the face white, soft and smooth, without the shininess caused by other lotions. For this purpose far superior to bay rum, cologne or perfumed water. Best barbers use it.
